

Luna Work
TRAVELGENIX CRM

The complete user guide

Everything you need to run your travel agency on Luna Work — set-up, every screen, the tips that get the most out of it, and a quick-start for every role.

Contents

Read “Getting started” and the quick-start for your role, then dip into any feature as you need it. Every feature section has a labelled figure, step-by-step instructions and top tips.

Where to start — by role	Owner/Manager · Travel consultant · Admin
1 · Getting started	Sign in, data, the tour, finding things fast
2 · Dashboard	Your morning briefing and the day at a glance
3 · Customers & smart segments	Find, group and act on customers
4 · Customer 360	The full record, brief, predictions and actions
5 · Inbox	Triage and reply with ranked drafts
6 · Trips pipeline	The Kanban board from enquiry to returned
7 · Journeys (auto-pilot)	Rules that do the follow-ups for you
8 · Tasks	The work queue
9 · Reports	Revenue, pipeline and behaviour
10 · Settings	Workspace, team, AI and compliance
11 · Luna AI & how to trust it	What's automated and what isn't
12 · Top 10 tips	Power moves for the whole team
13 · Keyboard shortcuts	Move at speed
A–Z index	Every feature and where to find it

Where to start — by role

Luna Work suits the whole agency. Find yourself below for the fastest path to value. Page references point to the numbered sections.

Owner / Manager

You care about revenue, the team's output and nothing slipping through.

- Start each day on the Dashboard (§2) — the briefing line is your pulse.
- Set up Journeys (§7) once — they protect repeat revenue on auto-pilot.
- Check Reports (§9) weekly; watch the new-vs-repeat trend.
- Use Settings (§10) for team and the compliance figures before any campaign.

Travel consultant / Agent

You live in the inbox and on the phone, turning enquiries into trips.

- Clear the Inbox Today lane (§5) — reply with the ranked drafts.
- Open the Customer 360 (§4) before every call; read the brief and next steps.
- Keep the Trips board (§6) moving; chase anything stuck in Quoted.
- Work your Tasks (§8) — overdue and today — to zero each morning.
- Once a week, run a saved segment (§3) of quiet past customers.

Administrator / Operations

You keep the workspace healthy, compliant and set up correctly.

- Own the set-up checklist (§1) — data, the optional AI key, the segments migration.
- Monitor Settings → Compliance (§10) — GDPR consent, marketing opt-in, passports.
- Keep Journeys (§7) tidy: pause what's not needed, review the activity feed.
- Use Reports (§9) to pull figures for management.

New starter? Whatever your role, take the in-app tour first (sidebar → Take a tour), then read §1 and your role box above. You'll be productive inside ten minutes.

1 Getting started

Luna Work is your travel-native CRM. Luna, the built-in AI, reads your inbox, briefs you on every customer, suggests the next move and runs the routine follow-ups. You stay in control: Luna drafts and queues, you approve and send.

The Luna Work workspace — sidebar navigation, with the Dashboard open. Illustrative figure.

Getting data in

1. Just exploring? Open Customers and click Seed demo data to load 30 realistic sample households.
2. Going live? Add your own customers instead, and clear the demo data when you're ready.

The guided tour & finding things fast

Take a tour

- Auto-opens on first visit; reopen any time from the sidebar.
- Walks you through set-up and every screen.

Quick find & Ask Luna

- `⌘/Ctrl + P` — jump to any customer, trip or page.
- `⌘/Ctrl + K` — ask Luna a plain-English question.

One-time set-up checklist (admin)

Step	Why
Database connected (3 keys)	Powers all data. Already done if pages load.
Run the schema	Creates the 14 core tables.
Run the segments migration	Enables Save segment ($3).
Add an AI key (optional)	Turns on live briefs, drafts, Ask & smart segments.
Add a booking URL (optional)	Makes “Schedule call” open your calendar.

Tip: Everything runs without the AI key — Luna falls back to prepared content — so you can go live first and switch AI on whenever you're ready.

2 Dashboard

Your home screen and daily starting point. It answers one question: what needs me today?

Dashboard — briefing, KPIs, pipeline and what needs you today. Illustrative figure.

How to use it

1. Read the briefing line first — your to-do list in one sentence.
2. Click Needs you today or any KPI tile to jump straight to the work.
3. Glance at the Luna on auto-pilot strip to see what journeys handled overnight.

Top tip: If the briefing says "nothing urgent", that's your cue to be proactive — chase a quote or work a re-engagement segment.

3 Customers & smart segments

Your customer list, with a search box that understands plain English. Describe who you want and Luna builds the filter.

Luna Work

Dashboard

Inbox

Customers

Trips

families who went to Greece and have gone quiet

Ask Luna

Greece x

Family x

No contact 12m x

+ Saved: VIP couples

Travelling now 4

CUSTOMER	CITY	LTV	TRIPS
Sarah & James Thompson	Poole	£38k	7
The Davies Family	Wimborne	£21k	4
Margaret & Brian Doyle	Salisbury	£17k	5

Email all

+ Add to journey

+ Save segment

Customers — a natural-language segment with filter chips and group actions. Illustrative figure.

Finding & acting on people

1. Type a description in the smart bar and press Enter — Luna turns it into filter chips.
2. Remove a chip to widen the search; use the saved-segment chips for one-click views.
3. Act on the group: Email all, Add to journey, Save segment, or tick rows for Email selected / Add tag / Draft outreach.
4. Click any customer to open their full record.

Top tip: Save “Booked 18+ months ago, no contact” and work it weekly — that’s repeat business most agencies leave on the table.

Set-up note: Saving segments needs the one-time segments migration. Until then, everything else works and Save segment tells you what to run.

4 Customer 360

Everything about one household on a single page — history, intelligence and the next move.

Customer 360 — brief, predictions and Luna's next steps with action buttons. Illustrative figure.

Actions you can take

Button	What it does
Refresh brief	Regenerates Luna's brief and predictions from the latest data.
Draft a reply	Opens the inbox focused on their most recent message.
Add note	Adds an internal note that appears in the timeline.
Schedule call	Creates a follow-up task (and opens your booking page if configured).
Next steps · Do	Performs the suggested step — creates the task or opens the reply.

Top tip: Skim the brief and timeline before every call. Mentioning their last trip or a child's name from memory turns a booking into a relationship.

5 Inbox

Every inbound message, triaged by Luna and ready to answer — with reply options written for you.

Inbox — triage lanes, the focused message and Luna's ranked reply drafts. Illustrative figure.

How to use it

1. Work the Today lane first. Select a message to see the full email and Luna's read.
2. Switch between the ranked drafts — each has a one-line rationale for its trade-off.
3. Send as is, Edit before sending, or Draft with Luna for fresh, grounded options.

Top tip: The drafts differ in tone on purpose. Pick the one that fits the relationship — the rationale tells you what each prioritises.

Trips pipeline

A Kanban board of every trip, from first enquiry to safely returned, so nothing stalls.

Trips — drag cards between stages; column counts show pipeline health. Illustrative figure.

How to use it

1. Drag a card between columns as a trip moves on (or use the stage dropdown on touch/keyboard).
2. Read the column totals to see value sitting at each stage.
3. Click a card to open the customer behind the trip.

Top tip: If cards pile up in Quoted, that's your follow-up list — pair it with a journey so Luna chases them automatically.

7 Journeys (auto-pilot)

The heart of “AI doing the work nobody has time for”. A journey is a rule: when something happens, Luna does a follow-up.

Journeys — active rules, who's eligible now, and the activity log. Illustrative figure.

How to use it

1. Click Install starter journeys to add the four proven rules.
2. Use Run now (or Run all active) to act on who's eligible; Pause any you don't want.
3. Review the What Luna has done feed — drafts are marked awaiting review and never send themselves.

Starter journey	Fires	Luna does
Pre-departure check-in	10 days before	Task: confirm details
Welcome home	3 days after return	Draft welcome email
Passport expiry warning	< 6 months to expiry	Task: flag passport
Re-engage quiet customers	12 months no contact	Draft re-engagement

Top tip: Turn journeys on one at a time and watch the feed for a few days. Once you trust one, leave it running and let it protect your repeat revenue.

8 Tasks

Your single work queue. Everything Luna queues from journeys — plus follow-ups you create — lands here.

Tasks — open work bucketed by due date, with journey-created items badged. Illustrative figure.

How to use it

1. Tick the checkbox to complete, or Snooze (returns in three days).
2. Filter by Open / Snoozed / Done / All; reopen anything you need back.
3. Journey-created tasks carry a badge and link to the customer.

Top tip: Clear Overdue and Today every morning and the whole CRM stays honest — the Dashboard's “needs you today” count includes these.

9 Reports

The numbers that matter, computed live from your trips and customers.

Reports — headline figures, destinations and new-vs-repeat, with an instant range toggle. Illustrative figure.

How to use it

1. Flip the range between This year / Last 12 months / All time — it updates instantly.
2. Use source attribution to decide where your next marketing pound goes.

Top tip: Watch new-vs-repeat over time. Growing repeat share is the clearest sign your journeys and follow-ups are working.

Your workspace, your team, and how Luna behaves.

- Workspace — agency name, brand colour, region and plan.
- Team — the people with access and their roles.
- Luna AI — the house style Luna always writes in, and which feature each model powers.
- Integrations — connection status for your database, the AI engine and hosting.
- Compliance & data — live GDPR consent, marketing opt-in and passport-expiry figures.

Top tip: Check the Compliance panel before any marketing send — it shows at a glance how many customers have consented.

Luna is built to be helpful and safe. Here's exactly what's automated and what always waits for you.

The rules Luna follows

- It never invents facts. Briefs and drafts use only the data on file; if Luna doesn't know something, it leaves it out.
- Numbers are computed, not guessed. Risk and opportunity come from real arithmetic on real fields.
- Nothing sends itself. Luna drafts and queues; a human reviews and sends.
- It writes in your voice. UK English, warm and direct, no marketing filler.

Top tip: Treat Luna like a brilliant new colleague — let it do the first draft and the legwork, and bring your judgement to the final send. That combination is where the time savings come from.

The moves that separate “using Luna Work” from “getting the most out of it”.

#	Tip
1	Start every day on the Dashboard and act on the briefing line first.
2	Clear the Inbox Today lane and overdue Tasks before anything else.
3	Open the Customer 360 before every call — the brief is your 10-second catch-up.
4	Save a segment for quiet past customers and work it weekly.
5	Turn on Journeys one at a time, then let them run — that's repeat revenue on auto-pilot.
6	Watch the Trips board for cards stuck in Quoted; that's your hottest follow-up list.
7	Use Ask Luna (⌘/Ctrl+K) instead of building a report for quick questions.
8	Always add a note after a call so the next person sees the full picture.
9	Pick the reply draft whose rationale matches the relationship, not just the fastest one.
10	Check Reports → new-vs-repeat monthly to prove the follow-ups are working.

Manager's tip: Make tips 1, 2 and 5 a team standard. They take minutes a day and protect the revenue that's easiest to lose — your existing customers.

Shortcut	Action
⌘/Ctrl + P	Open Quick find (jump to any customer, trip or page)
⌘/Ctrl + K	Open Ask Luna
↑ ↓ then Enter	Move through results and open
← →	Move through the product tour
Esc	Close any overlay (tour, palette, Ask)

A simple daily rhythm

1. Open the Dashboard and read the briefing.
2. Clear the Today inbox lane and overdue Tasks.
3. Glance at Trips for anything stalled in Quoted.
4. Once a week, work a saved segment of quiet past customers.
5. Let Journeys handle the routine in the background.

A–Z index

Every feature and where to find it. Numbers refer to the guide's sections.

A

Add note	§4
Add tag (bulk)	§3
Add to journey	§3, §7
Ask Luna	§1, §13
Auto-pilot	§7

B

Briefing (morning)	§2
Brief (customer)	§4

C

Compliance figures	§10
Customer 360	§4
Customers list	§3

D

Dashboard	§2
Draft a reply	§4, §5
Draft outreach	§3
Drafts (ranked)	§5

E

Email all / selected	§3
----------------------	----

G

Getting started	§1
-----------------	----

I

Inbox	§5
Integrations	§10

J

Journeys	§7
----------	----

K

Keyboard shortcuts	§13
--------------------	-----

L

Lanes (triage)	§5
Luna AI rules	§11

N

Next steps	§4
------------	----

P

Passport warnings	§4, §7
Pipeline (trips)	§6
Predictions	§4

Q

Quick find	§1, §13
------------	---------

R

Refresh brief	§4
Reports	§9
Roles (where to start)	Roles

S

Save segment	§3
Schedule call	§4
Seed demo data	§1, §3
Segments (smart)	§3
Settings	§10
Snooze (task)	§8

T

Tags	§3
Tasks	§8
Tour (in-app)	§1

Luna Work — Travelgenix CRM · User guide v2 · Reopen the in-app tour any time from "Take a tour" in the sidebar.